You Belong Here

M.H. Clark, illustrated by Isabelle Arsenault

Journeys around the world, noticing the plants and animals along the way – and gently reminding kids that, like everything in nature, they have a special place here too. Perfect for baby showers, adoptions, birthdays, or everyday affirmation, this timeless read-aloud creates meaningful moments between caregivers and children. Its message is simple yet profound: you are part of this world in a way no one else can be.

Favorite Favorite

M.H. Clark, illustrated by Daisy Hirst

Favorite Favorite is a heartwarming children's book that lets little ones know just how deeply they're loved. With gentle rhymes and whimsical illustrations, it captures the magic tucked inside everyday life – shared ice cream, sweet questions, joyful messes, and all the hugs that say, "I love you" without a word. Playful artwork features an illustrated rabbit and their bunny as they move through the ups and downs of a day – calming, chaotic, and everything in between. Each colourful scene is as comforting to look at as it is to read.

Everywhere Still

A Book About Loss, Grief, and the Way Love Continues

M.H. Clark, illustrated by Claire Lemp

Gentle and compassionate, this poetic picture book helps children navigate grief and loss, offering reassurance that love and connection remain – even when someone special is no longer physically present. Ideal for families and counsellors, this comforting read-aloud opens the door to important conversations about grief, memory, and healing. It does not rush feelings away or promise easy answers. Instead, it's steady reassurance that love endures. Because even when someone is no longer here beside us, the love they gave stays with us – everywhere, still.

One More Book Before Bed

M.H. Clark, illustrated by Inbar Heller Algazi

More than a book, this is a bedtime ritual of comfort and connection. It's a quiet place for little ones to process the day and put it away, creating a nighttime conversation that will settle young minds and bodies. The words will also walk readers through bedtime meditations, helping kids focus on breathing, snuggling up, and feeling safe and loved before falling asleep.

Tiny Perfect Things

M.H. Clark, illustrated by Madeline Kloepper

This is the story of a child and a grandfather whose simple walk around the neighborhood leads to a day of shared wonder. Together, they discover all sorts of tiny, perfect things together – a glimmering spider web, a fallen leaf, a ladybug resting on a stem. With rhythmic storytelling and richly detailed illustrations, this book shows how childlike curiosity can transform ordinary days into extraordinary adventures.
